

The Changing Role of Media Covering Contemporary Warfare

A conversation with former CNN correspondent Ralph Begleiter

February 7, 2024
4-6 pm

Seeley Hall, Trinity College, University of Toronto
6 Hoskin Ave, Toronto, ON M5S 1H8

Register here:

<https://billgrahamcentre.utoronto.ca/events/2024/2/7/the-changing-role-of-media-covering-contemporary-warfare>

Former CNN World Affairs Correspondent and educator Ralph Begleiter explores the changing role of news media covering contemporary warfare, using the Ukraine and Gaza wars as real-world examples.

Telling the “war” story, the “humanitarian” story and the “political” story are different skills, and few organizations are equipped for those roles. While social media have become indispensable in collecting details, they also reveal serious shortcomings when it comes to fairly telling the comprehensive story.

